

How India is building a Pearls Farming Industry

1. Do you think Pearls are a good idea as a business?
yes why? why it is a business where there are not yet many companies exploiting that resource.
2. Who is Mr Garwa? a man who in 2016 was going through an economic crisis who took the risk of cultivating Pearls
3. Does he believe in his business? yes
4. Does India have competition in the pearls market? yes and its competition is China since the Pearls that India is cultivating are the wrong ones and in the south sea they are getting better Pearls as well.
5. Do the farmers produce fine quality Pearls?
not all. as well mentioned, the Pearls of India are of good quality and the best are those of the south sea.
6. What do you understand of the reading?
that Pearls are still a small market and that farming them is very risky and that the best Pearls are found in the south sea.
