

JACK MA – Alibaba

He is the founder of Alibaba

He likes to read

He is the father of three children

He is the richest Chinese

He gives motivational lectures

I chose Jack Ma because knowing his story moved me and at the same time it was funny, he was rejected from Harvard Business School ten times, in a job application where there were 24 people, he was the only one who was rejected, he applied for 30 jobs which he was rejected by everyone, he got a job earning 12 dollars a month. After all this he started working on the internet and little by little he grew and that's how he founded Alibaba. He seems like an extraordinary person to me because he never gave up even though he always got a "NO". He is now one of the richest Chinese in the world.
