

CARLOS BREMER GUTIÉRREZ.

- Currently he is one of the most important businessmen in Mexico.
- He is director of Grupo Financiero Value.
- He is part of the Shark Tank Mexico program.
- He has distinguished himself by supporting athletes.
- He is a Bachelor of Accounting.

I chose him, because I really like sports and he supports athletes a lot, apart from the fact that he likes to support people with their projects, it's something I admire, because one of my goals is to one day be able to support my friends and family. to be able to get ahead and perhaps a little more professionalize what they like to do because they like it and not out of necessity, and people with perhaps very crazy ideas and with a future who need backing and support to get ahead, I also chose because it is very good with numbers and I am very interested in learning that since it is very important for a business.
